Banquet To Honor Squad, Managers

A banquet in honor of the Middlebury varsity football squad will be held on December 11, in the College gym, it was announced today by Gordon C. Perine '49. Mr. Perine is the chairman of a committee appointed by Men's Assembly to arrange the details of the banquet. Other members of the committee include Michael Tanes '51 and Malcom MacGregor '51.

Members of the football team, managers, coaches, and administration officials will be guests at the banquet. At this time football sweaters will be awarded providing they are received in time, and the captain for the 1948 team will be announced. Movies of the U.V.M.-Middlebury football game will also be shown. Speakers for the occasion will be announced later.

Tickets for the banquet will go on sale December 8 at $1.50 per person. The ticket sales will be limited to 200 and may be bought by either men or women of the student body.

The menu will consist of: Grapefruit supreme, hearts of celery, Spanish olives, baked Vermont maple sugar-cured ham, creamed diced pommes, buttered corn kernels, frosted green peas, Middlebury College rolls, neapolitan ice cream, finger brownies, coffee, cigars.

Honorary Society Initiates Members

Seven seniors were elected to the Phi Beta Kappa honorary scholarship society on November 26 when the dean of the Middlebury College faculty, Raymond H. White, formally awarded keys. The ceremony, held in Mead Memorial Chapel, was opened by Dr. Stephen A. Freeman, president of Middlebury's Beta Chapter of Vermont.

The new members of the society are: Milon H. Cluff, Dedham, Mass.; Sally A. Finley, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Helen L. Hicks, Manhasset, N. Y.; Virginia M. Knudsen, West Hartford, Conn.; Patricia A. Malone, Maplewood, N. J.; I. Ann Myers, Swarthmore, Pa.; and Ann W. Ryder, Brockton, Mass.

Eligibility to Phi Beta Kappa is based on a scholastic average of 89 percent for six terms in an accredited college or 87½ percent for six terms. Transfer students who have attained an average of 89 percent for six terms or at least 90 percent for four terms are also eligible. Not over 15 percent of the combined men's and women's senior class may be accepted for membership.

Phi Beta Kappa Society is the oldest Greek letter organization in the country. Its list of members includes some of the most distinguished names in the nation's history.

Midd CAMPUS Promotions Made In Business Staff

TRYOUTS ELECTED TO EDITORIAL DEPT.

Mary C. Fisher '49 has been appointed business manager of the CAMPUS effective December 1, it was announced by the senior board of the paper today. Miss Fisher will move up from her position as advertising manager to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John B. Parker '48, who was elected business manager in June, 1947. Miss Fisher will serve the remainder of the term which lasts until May, 1948.

Eugenia N. Reinbrecht '50 has been promoted from the position of assistant business manager to advertising manager to fill the post vacated by Miss Fisher.

Leigh R. Wright '50, John R. Walsh '51, Martha Jane O'Brien '51, and Helen E. Reid '51 have been appointed to the CAMPUS news staff. As a result of a two-hour examination taken last Friday, at the conclusion of a six-week preparatory period, these four tryouts were chosen from a group of ten taking the exam to join the staff.

The editorial staff tryouts, who began work early in October, attended regular Friday afternoon meetings at which they were taught the rudiments of CAMPUS work. While learning how to write stories and heads, the tryouts had regular outside assignments covering news and feature stories.

A new tryout period opened this afternoon, the second meeting of which will be held next Friday afternoon at 4.00 p.m. in Munroe 107. This tryout period which will extend until mid-January, is open to students from all classes.

Dance Club To Give Program Dec. 11-12

The Modern Dance Club will present its first production of the year on December 11 and 12 at the College Playhouse.

Under the direction of Mrs. Mary M. Lee and Janet M. McIntosh '50, the new president, the program will have as its principal selection a "primitive" type of dance with which the Middlebury dancers have not previously experimented. Composed by the dance group, a selective part of the organization, it will be executed by the entire club. The members of the group will present a number of shorter dances and solos, and the program will also include a repetition of the "Hollow Men" which was done for the first time in last spring's production.

Interest in modern dancing has increased considerably this year, and at its first meeting shortly after the opening of school, the club enrolled approximately thirty-five members. Joan H. Roessle '48, who transferred to Bennington at the end of her sophomore year, is back at Middlebury and has brought with her many new ideas for technique and subject matter. Since the yearly tryouts have not yet been held, the dance group has been depleted to a membership of only eight. However, these eight have acted as a nucleus in selecting and composing the dances, and have worked with the club in polishing and executing them so that the choreography for the December production is now nearing completion. Tickets will go on sale next week.

N.S.A. Discussion Highlights Meeting

Because of a fund shortage, the Men's Assembly voted Sunday evening to postpone action this semester on participation by the Men's College in the National Student Association.

[It was announced at a Women's Assembly meeting last Friday that since a majority of the women had voted in favor of the N. S. A. the Women's College definitely would join.]

Peter L. Knight '50, chairman of a committee appointed to discuss joint membership of the men's and women's colleges, recommended an affirmative vote on N. S. A. membership, with each college sponsoring one representative.

In a discussion that indicated general Assembly approval of the proposal, the question of financing N. S. A. membership arose. John F. Allen '50, treasurer, reported that since the Men's Assembly had undertaken the purchase of varsity award sweaters, the remaining treasury funds would be inadequate to finance N. S. A. membership this semester.

The Assembly also considered ways and means by which a banquet in honor of

Midd Debaters Win In Three Contests

The Middlebury College debating team won three and lost one of its debates on the Boston trip last Tuesday. Middlebury won debates at Harvard, Boston University and Tufts College, and lost the debates at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

John M. Hale '48 and George C. Newcomb '48 argued both sides of the question, Resolved: that a federal world government should be established. Tuesday afternoon they upheld the affirmative against Boston University and then that evening switched sides to argue the negative against Tufts.

In the debate at Harvard, Tuesday evening, the other Middlebury team, composed of Roswell T. Edwards, Jr. '49 and Phillip G. Hull '49, upheld the affirmative of the question, Resolved: that price controls on basic commodities should be established.

The same team met Massachusetts Institute of Technology Tuesday afternoon, arguing the affirmative of the question on world federation, which is the national college debate topic for this year.

Musician-Critic To Offer Concert Comments Dec. 3

The concert and lecture aspects of the Middlebury College Concert-Lecture Series will be combined on Wednesday evening, December 3, when Boris Goldovsky, well known master of ceremonies for the Metropolitan Opera broadcasts, presents his unique "concert with comments" at Middlebury.

Mr. Goldovsky, a piano virtuoso as well as a musical commentator, will combine these two talents to give his Middlebury audience a glimpse of his "Piano Portraits," a program of musical selections accompanied by brief comments of musical mention.

Known to the Saturday afternoon radio audiences as commentator for the "Opera News of the Air," intermission broadcasts of the Metropolitan Opera Company, Mr. Goldovsky has already established his reputation as a musical commentator. He recently received a special award from the magazine Musical America for having produced the best musical manuscript of the season. But Mr. Goldovsky's reputation as pianist as well as commentator is known in those areas where he has performed. According to a Boston Post review, Mr. Goldovsky "plays piece after piece as neatly, tastefully and persuasively as you could wish."

Mr. Goldovsky has been in the United States since 1939. Before that time he toured Europe as a concert pianist, having made his debut with the Berlin Philharmonic at the age of thirteen.

At present Mr. Goldovsky is on a year's leave of absence from his regular post at the New England Conservatory in order to make concert and radio appearances. His Middlebury audience may look forward to an evening during which Mr. Goldovsky's concert and comments will prove him to be both a capable pianist and a humorous and informative commentator.

The concert will begin at 8.15 p.m. in the Midlebury High School gymnasium. Students must present their identification passes in order to be admitted to the concert.

SUN VALLEY OR BUST

The ski team has accepted the proffered invitation to participate in the intercollegiate ski meet being held at Sun Valley from December 28 to December 31.

During the past week efforts to raise the necessary funds got underway. The job was made more difficult since the estimate of the total cost has now been set at $1,400. However, part of that amount had already been subscribed. The Athletic Department is still offering a contribution of only $250—or the amount they claim they would allocate to the team if it were to participate in the Sno-Birds meet at Lake Placid, which meet the Sun Valley trip is replacing. President Stratton announced that a special gift had made possible a contribution from the College of $600. This leaves $550 to be raised. Under the general chairmanship of the president of the Mountain Club, and backed by the whole membership of that organization, plans for the attack were formulated.

The class officers were approached to ascertain whether class treasuries could and would provide the remainder. Most could. Class meetings to approve an allocation of class funds for this purpose have been or will be called. Several have already met, and contributions are promised.

If each class of both men's and women's colleges were to give $70 the remainder of the $1,400 would be subscribed. Some classes can give more, while others, because of financial conditions, must give less.

The fund will be raised—because the students are behind the ski team in this. It is unfortunate that more of the fund could not have been given by the Athletic Department. The over-all budget allowance of the college to this department cannot be increased. But within this budget individual allocations could have been pared, here and there, to provide more money for the Sun Valley venture. Even a small additional sum—a token increase—would have been an indication of wholehearted support.

The team replied before the total funds were assured, because, of necessity, they had to accept or decline the invitation. They need have no cause for worry—the $1,400 total will be reached—thanks to the wholehearted student support!

THE BALANCE SHEET

In a few days it will all be over. Eight long weeks—that seemed to grow longer as time went by. Eight weeks during which about 275 neutral men were introduced to about 330 fraternity men. It grew tiresome to the neutrals, and it became equally tiresome to the fraternity men.

Why were these 275 men desirous of going fraternity? Certainly there have been in recent years many complaints pertaining to fraternities. There are claims that they are undemocratic—certain classes being refused entrance. There are claims that they create ill-will instead of good-will, that they are detrimental to the college because they tend to put fraternity first, and the college second. Many of these claims are true. But are they all true of fraternities at Middlebury? Most fraternity men will argue that they are different here. Some neutral men will argue that all or many of these claims do apply. Let us examine the balance sheet.

There are several fraternities here that do discriminate as regards religion or color. This is unfortunate, but it must be remembered that rules such as these are national not local rules. This is the debit side of the balance sheet.

The credit side is longer. There are no class lines established by fraternities at Middlebury. This campus is too small. Our daily lives are so completely meshed and intertwined. Rival fraternity men live side by side in every men's dorm. There is a remarkable feeling of friendliness and good will among fraternities here at Midd.

Neither does the claim of fraternity first, college second apply at Midd today. There has been complete cooperation with the college; complete subordination of the tendency to place the fraternity above all else. There is in this aspect the ever present danger that the emphasis may change, but to date, in this post-war period, it has not evidenced itself.

The fraternity system as it exists at Middlebury is not perfect—few systems are. But, perhaps because of Midd's location, its size, or the makeup of its male student body—it cannot be credited with much of the criticism that has been leveled against fraternities in general.

Do the credits outweigh the debits? Do the advantages of belonging to a fraternity at Midd outweigh the disadvantages? Dean Lee in his "Introduction to Fraternities at Middlebury" in the college Handbook said, "Membership in a fraternity can add immeasurably to college life during a period of four years, but is no criterion of academic and social success." It is for you to evaluate the credits and debits, since the final decision is yours alone.

Baby Sitters Meet With Town P.T.A.

Last Thursday evening the Middlebury Graded PTA held a meeting at the local high school in order to learn how many high school and college students were interested in baby sitting. Kenneth J. Simendinger '49 represented the enterprising Baby Sitting Agency which he fathered. In addition to Ken and a number of high school girls, the assemblage included twelve college men and women, unorganized but willing. Also present were numerous sitter-considering parents. Sensing that something new was afoot, the Rutland Herald had a reporter on hand.

Business got under way with a discussion of the PTA's system which has baby sitting ordered on a scientific basis. Each sitter is given a Baby Sitter's Guide, a pamphlet so complete that it includes such information as how to bubble the baby and what to do when a child starts sleep-walking. Nothing is left to chance or guess work. Parents are briefed by an outline that lists their responsibilities as well as those of the sitter. All parents receive Family Routine Charts which they give to their sitters containing information concerning such things as the doctor to be called in an emergency, the place where the parents can be located, and the routine followed in putting the child to bed.

After the discussion a list was made up of all potential sitters as to their age, experience, special qualifications, address, and telephone number. The Rutland reporter was so awed with the idea of college men serving as baby sitters that she immediately borrowed the CAMPUS picture of Ken changing Nancy Summers. The shot appeared in the Rutland Herald the following day. Ken reports that recent publicity has caused an influx of new business. Calls come in all during the day. The popularity of the agency has been enhanced by Ken's stabilizing his rates at a level which the townspeople consider fair and reasonable. At present the agency is a closed corporation of five members, but they are seriously thinking of expanding membership if business continues to pick up.

All students who would like to try their hands at this burgeoning enterprise are encouraged to contact either Ken Simendinger in Painter or Mrs. W. A. Cobb of 8 High Street.

Organization of the Month

Would you gentlemen like to form a Beer Guzzling Club? Of the ladies, an organization for the Knitting of Argyle Socks? In either case one of the first steps is to have the organization recognized by the Student Life Committee.

This student-faculty committee, which coordinates and regulates the extra-curricula program with the exception of athletic contests, is composed of Pres. Samuel S. Stratton; Dean W. Storrs Lee; Dean Mary F. Williams; Miss Elizabeth W. Baker, social director; Mrs. Lois D. O'Neil, assistant social director; Donald B. McGuire, Jr. '48, president of Men's Undergraduate Association; David E. Thompson '49, speaker of Men's Assembly; M. Sue Cooke '48, president of Student Union; and Louise M. Gerlitz '49, vice-president of Student Union.

In addition to granting permission for new organizations and approving their constitutions, the committee passes the social calendar for each term. At the monthly meetings, lengthy discussions are held on current problems around campus, and any complaints or gripes of the students may be submitted for consideration.

Among the decisions of the Student Life Committee this year have been the approval of the new Interfaith Council constitution, the granting to the Federalists of the right to sponsor a membership drive, and the passing of the rule that fraternities may not hold parties on nights on which organizations are sponsoring gym dances.

Letters to the Editor

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This column is for expression of ideas from readers. letters containing not more than 250 words will be printed.)

To the Editor:

Middlebury has not only the largest student body in its history this year but also that student body has an unusually large number of automobiles in its possession. These cars are here not as a right but as a privilege extended to the student body by the College. Like all privileges this one carries with it a certain responsibility that a number of car owners have been neglecting of late to the distinct danger of the less fortunate members of the student body and the car owners themselves.

The speed limit on and around campus is 20 miles per hour but the common practice has been to use Old Stone Row, Fraternity Row, and West Road as a speedway. We of the Men's Assembly hope that you will cooperate in this matter.

THE MEN'S ASSEMBLY.

To the Editor:

I see by the CAMPUS that fraternity rushing is about over. With most interested men now presumably steeped in the fine points of fraternities, I feel that it can do no harm to present a few considerations that I, as a neutral, think anyone should take into account before joining a fraternity.

Despite what you have been told by Dean Lee and other authorities, fraternities are not democratic in the sense that they allow anyone to join who wants to, or even in the sense that they make no distinctions as to race or religion. By their very nature as exclusive societies, they will never be democratic, but they can be made to get rid of discrimi This was proved at Amherst las when the college made fraternities antee that there would be no disc tion before letting them come back the war.

At Middlebury, fraternities hav left free to do as they please abo crimination. The result is that Je barred from several fraternities. N or any non-whites are barred from tional fraternities. Lack of majorit on admissions and "gentleman's ments" reduce the chances of both i of the others. These are the facts things stand, it is up to the fraterni solve the problem. Meanwhile, i really mean democracy, you may little uncomfortable in some of th ternities here. Take a good look at some questions before you decide.

D. JERALD HALL, JR. '48

To the Editor:

In your editorial you demonstrate mature journalistic sense and respo ity than the writer of the editorial Daily News. Capitalizing cheap and sensationalism is journalism at its and violates the responsibility that press needs to maintain for its own rity.

KNOTHOLE

"Down country," which is any place south of Vermont to natives of the Green Mountain State, when the average person hears the name of Middlebury, his first question is to say, "Where is that? It's in Connecticut isn't it," or "Who do you play in football? You don't play Harvard, Yale, Boston College, Dartmouth or Notre Dame, do you?" Rarely in the past has Middlebury had a record in football to shout about, even against schools in its own class, so the answer to the above question after stating, "Middlebury, Vermont," is usually one of excuses and apologies. Playing against schools in their own class, the Panthers chalked up a most admirable record this season, and we all hope it marks the beginning of a new era of Midd gridiron superiority. We have a team to boast about!

Admittedly, athletic prowess is a poor criterion upon which to judge the merits of a school, but the fact remains that the majority of Americans do form their opinions in this manner. Most of the favorable publicity received by a school is obtained by its athletic teams.

Middlebury is fortunate in having such able boosters as William H. Upson of the Saturday Evening Post and Frank Elkins of the New York Times. The language summer schools and the annual culture conference add immeasurably to the prestige of the college. However, only during the brief three day span of winter carnival when the skiers hold forth, does Middlebury College receive any great amount of newspaper space.

Skiing is one sport in which Middlebury can compete with any school in America. The inter-collegiate meet for the mythical national championship at Sun Valley provides excellent opportunity for our skiers and our college to gain national recognition. Let's all back the drive for funds being made by the ski team!

Joe Jones, women's ski team coach, lost no time in getting some of his charges out on Chapel Hill to take advantage of the first snow. Monday afternoon veteran Middlebury skiers Nat Benson and Peg Curtis joined by freshman Margy Packard from Denver, Betty Sutherland from Quebec and Joan Macklaier from Montreal were working out under the watchful eyes of the skiing stylist.

Coach Duke Nelson has announced that his pucksters will start practice December 1. The cross-country course will receive double duty as the hockey aspirants join the basketball hopefuls in their painful jaunts around the golf course to work into condition. The hockey team will embark on a major schedule starting with a round robin match with three other colleges January 1, 2, and 3 at Clinton, N. Y.

Both the basketball team and the hockey sextet will be decked out in complete new uniforms this season. At last the moth-eaten wraps of 1880 vintage have been scrapped.

An interesting comparison can perhaps be made with regard to the picking of an all-opponent squad by the Middlebury team. The choices made by a spectator and those made by the players may differ widely. My choices, purely from an amateur point of view are: Ends, Pitkin of Trinity and Ryan of St. Lawrence; tackles, R. Williamson of Hobart and Clancy of Williams; guards, Dorsky of Coast Guard and Baltronis of Trinity; center, Bestor of Trinity; backs, Kunkiewicz and Heintz of Trinity, Enstice of Union, and Higgins of Williams.

Johnny Corbisiero has been honored by Coach John McLaughry of Union College by being placed on his all-opponent team to hold down the fullback slot.

Duke and Coach Brown are attending the annual meeting of athletic directors in Boston on November 28. All the directors from the New England area attend and talk over such subjects as schedules, eligibility rules, and college athletics in general.

It is too bad that more home hockey gomes couldn't have been scheduled. Last year it was one of the most popular spectator sports in spite of the cold. Plenty of excitement is always provided in this rough and speedy sport, and the Panthers will be a formidable aggregation again this year.

Plans are being formulated for a banquet to honor the football team and it should be inaugurated as an annual affair.

Coaches Ciccolella and Nelson were most cooperative during the football season and made possible the previews of each game. The sports staff wishes to express its gratitude to the coaches for making the task of getting information on opposing elevens much easier than would otherwise have been possible.

The score of the Trinity-Wesleyan game does not quite indicate the relative strength of the two clubs, though Wesleyan triumphed 13-0. Trinity outrushed the men from Middletown by 133 yards and racked up 21 first downs to 10 for the victors.

Before the Hobart game as Duke was briefing the squad for the fray, he turned to one of the ends and quickly asked this flankman what he would do if the ball came to him on the kickoff. With a somewhat bewildered look the big end answered, "Hell, I'd throw the ball back on the playing field it's no good on the bench, Coach."

That brings to mind one of my favorite sports stories which concerns Rabbit Maranville, the great shortstop of the Braves in the '20s and early '30s. He was a great clown and somewhat of a screwball. In the midst of a terrible batting slump in which the ball player had gone hitless in innumerable attempts, he strode deliberately to the plate brandishing his bat menacingly. The bases were empty, his team was several runs behind, and there was one out. He stepped into the batter's box, but just as the pitcher made his motion to pitch he stepped out of the box, threw his hat disgustedly towards the dugout, and shouted in a voice clearly audible to the spectators, "Two out!"

Frosh Five Begin Intensive Workouts

Twelve hopeful freshmen are drilling daily in intensive preparations for their first basketball game of the season. The freshman team is being re-established this year as a substitute for last year's junior varsity five. The eligibility rules will be the same as were in effect for the football team when G.I. freshmen were eligible to play with the varsity in all but the Vermont series games. All freshmen will be eligible to move up to the varsity when the second semester opens.

The freshman schedule is still in the process of formulation, however, it is fairly certain that such a schedule will include nine or ten games and will be highlighted by the six games which compose the home-and-home series with Vermont, Norwich, and St. Michael's.

Coach Dick Ciccolella is placing heavy emphasis on the fundamentals of the game. One task of the Middlebury mentor will be to try to coordinate the individual styles of players who have never played together into a smooth working team.

SQUAD, STAFF PICK TEAM FROM FOES

The Middlebury College football squad and coaching staff, in a poll conducted by the college publicity office, has selected an all-opponent eleven from among members of the opposition met on the gridiron this fall.

Quarterback Tony Kunkiewicz, Trinity, was named captain, by virtue of having received the most votes, and fullback Pat Higgins of Williams was chosen alternate. Trinity, the only team to defeat the Panthers this year, secured four of the eleven berths with Hobart and Williams next with two each.

The all-opponent teams is as follows:

FIRST TEAM: Pope, Trinity, le; D. Williamson, Hobart, lt; Baltronis, Trinity, lg; Bestor, Trinity, c; DeBello, Union, rg; R. Williamson, Hobart, rt; Meyer, Coast Guard, re; Enstice, Union, lh; St. Gelais, Vermont, rh; Kunkiewicz, Trinity, qb; Higgins, Williams, fb.

SECOND TEAM: Friedoff, Coast Guard, le; Holmgren, Trinity, lt; J. Williamson, St. Lawrence, lg; Whalen, Union, c; Kolakowski, Trinity, rg; Ponsalle, Trinity rt; Pitkin, Trinity, re; Heintz, Trinity, lh; Boland, Trinity, rh; Vaughn, Coast Guard, qb; Hawkins, Coast Guard, fb.

Art Buettner

Twice last week the lights in McCullough Gym were on until nine o'clock or later as the intramural teams continued to vie for the possession of the battered, silver volleyball cup.

Wednesday saw the Chipsies rout the Dekes 15-6 and 15-3, while the Alpha Slugs fought for two wins over the Sig Eps, 15-13 and 15-11. Two more games followed. A rejuvenated DU club outspiked Wendy Agne's Neutral aggregation in two 15-13 tilts after the clubbers lost the first game of the season the week before. The Theta Chi-KDR match was decided in two fast games with the win going to the T. C. six, 15-7, 15-13.

On Friday, Theta Chi played again and defeated the Sig Eps in two straight, 15-4 and 15-11. The Chi Psi Lodge which now shares a league-leading first place with Theta Chi, each with three wins and no losses, set back the Neutrals, 15-5, 15-7, for the Lodge's third important win. The Alpha Slugs came through by winning 15-13 and 15-4 over the ATO men, and the DU's allowed margin for error in their 15-6 and 15-1 wins over the Dekes.

The old mug, over which all this noise is being made down in the gymnasium, has a long and perhaps colorful history behind it. First awarded in 1935 to KDR, it went next to DU, Sig Ep and Chi Psi in that order. In 1939, the Chipsies repeated, but dropped it the following year to the Dekes. The DU club teams of '41 and '42 garnered the cup, which was not put up for competition during the war, after the long, lean and lanky ASP's took over in 1943. Brought out of retirement in 1947, the old trophy was the cause of a great fracas between the Lodge and T. C., as the two outfits fought through three games of a playoff match with Theta Chi getting the cup on a 2-1 win in games.

The volleyball cup isn't much to look at, even though only a bare twelve years old. The silver on the inside is beginning to come off, and there are a few minor indentations on the face, where someone of a past era dealt unkindly with it. But the base is still solid, the handles intact and the engraving legible. It holds one and three-quarters quarts of liquid.

Personality Of the Week

Viola L. Diebold

"You know that black convertible of hers? Well, she's just like that little car—smooth, clean and compact." This once-over is quoted from a reliable source and a hundred mixed witnesses would swear to its aptness.

Miss Diebold is a rover. Her world is sports and where she roves they beckon, badminton being the brightest light. Her skills may be best described only by what she can't do—riding and skiing in the major field, and bridge playing and knitting in the minor.

Miss Diebold is an Ithaca College graduate, and "I'm used to the fast city life," she says. But city life is not all the versatile Miss Diebold is used to for she takes to the Maine Woods regularly. There Ohena campers have reveled under her alert guidance as head counselor for the past three summers and will revel again next year.

It was a fair west wind that blew Miss "Dee-bold" to Middlebury. The toss-up was between Washington and Vermont after she decided to break away from teaching in the North Tonawanda, N. Y. high school. Now "This is my first whirl at college, and I like it," grins the lady of the rusty-brown feather cut.

Hockey Practice To Begin Dec. 1
Panthers Plan Difficult Schedule

Basketball Team Conditioning Hard For Opening Game

For the last few weeks the 1947-48 edition of the Midlebury basketball team has been rounding into shape under the watchful eye of Coach Dick Ciccolella. With the season's opener against Clarkson less than three weeks away, the Panthers have a job ahead of them in reaching actual competitive form as quickly as possible.

In the conditioning race, the hoopsters have been utilizing Coach Brown's cross-country course to full advantage in an effort to develop stamina and endurance. Coach Ciccolella is a firm believer in the idea that conditioning will win games and is putting plenty of hustle into the workouts, especially in view of the fact that the Panthers' early season opponents have been working out considerably longer than have Ciccolella's men.

With five lettermen back from last year's squad, the Middmen will have a veteran nucleus around which to build. Besides these men, five members of last year's jayvee squad and eight others who are playing at Middlebury for the first time survived the initial cut. Some of the boys in the latter two groups are pressing the lettermen hard to try and get the nod for a starting assignment. This year the Panthers will field a better team than they did last season, due to the combination of experience plus new blood, but it also can be assumed that other schools will be strengthened proportionally.

Ciccolella's quintets seek to work out a satisfactory balance between offense and defense. He uses a fast break whenever possible but combines it with a set formation that functions if speed plays get fouled up. The team is showing a spirit and drive while they are working on their fundamentals that is the type that likes to pull upsets over favored but cocky outfits.

W. A. A.

With 110 girls out for the sport and ten teams constituting twelve games each week, the W. A. A. volleyball season is operating at full blast. As of last Tuesday, four teams were undefeated, the three senior teams, and the number one junior team.

Most hotly contested was the match between senior No. 2 team and sophomore No. 7. The seniors won 36-30.

Though not indicated by the score, 42-28, the senior first team was given a run for its money by the freshman "A" group, numbered 8 in the whole circuit. In another first team match, the juniors beat the sophs 36-19.

	Won	Lost
Seniors:
No. 1	3	0
No. 2	2	0
No. 3	2	0
Juniors:
No. 4	2	0
No. 5	0	2

Freshmen:

A team of six chipper Chi Psi's beat a group of senior women and won two out of three fifteen-point games last Sunday in McCullough Gym.

Prescott To Lead Middlebury Sextet

Veteran Lineup Meets Hamilton in First Game

Middlebury's hockey team will begin practice on December 1, ice or not, Coach Duke Nelson announced last week. If there is a lack of ice the team will get into shape by running on the board track.

This year Midd is a potential power. Led by Captain Kyle Prescott, the team will attempt to take the Vermont state championship for the second straight year. That their chances are good is shown by the fact that with one exception all of last year's varsity squad will be returning. The lettermen, besides Captain Prescott, include Bob Bennitt, Billy McNamara, Jim Marchese, Rog Casavant, Ev Painter, Dex Whittinghill, Dave Thompson, Bob Wilson, and Johnny Corbisiero. At the present time Paul Thompson and Wendy Forbes, both freshmen, are highly touted and it is expected that they will find places on the varsity squad.

As yet the official schedule has not been released, however Coach Nelson has lined up a tough schedule. The season is expected to start around the first of the year with a round robin at Hamilton College in Clinton, New York. Besides Middlebury and Hamilton other competitors will be Lehigh, Colgate and possibly Cornell. In addition, the Panthers will journey to Boston Garden to play Boston University, Boston College, MIT, and Northeastern. The game against the U. S. Military Academy at West Point will be one of the toughest on the schedule.

Of the ten lettermen returning, probably Billy McNamara is the most amazing. He is one of the fastest men on skates on the team, often catching unwary defense men off guard with sudden bursts of speed. Billy built up the largest number of individual points last year with 27. Another honor, although a dubious one, was his leadership in time spent in the penalty box 31 minutes. Jim Marchese, with 24, was ranked second in individual points. He was the individual high scorer parting the net eleven times. Although Captain Kyle's forté is defense, he was the third highest point maker with 21.

Last year was one of the best the Blue and White have had in recent years. Middlebury won seven games, lost two and tied one. One of the losses, an upset, at the hands of Norwich, was later avenged when Midd severely drubbed the Cadets.

In the event of a second Indian summer during the Christmas vacation, Duke may take his boys to Lake Placid where they will practice on the indoor rink.

Relay Team Drills For Track Season

Regular practice sessions for Middlebury's indoor track squad have been in progress since the close of the cross-country season. The make-up of the squad is still indefinite with newcomers reporting for practice every day.

Returning from last year's mile-relay team, which captured a first place in the Boston Columbian meet, will be Al Dragone and Will Bangs. These men will form a strong nucleus around which Coach Brown will probably build this year's team. The Panther coach will be hard put to fill the gaps left through the graduation of Dave Stebbins, fleet-footed anchor man; Hal Parker; and George Hartz. Among the candidates for the vacant posts are Murray Pearlstein, who starred last year in the sprints; Che Che Barquin, Rufe Cushman, Sam Donnellon, Don Sherburne, and Roland Latimer.

In the past, Panther relay teams have been perennial participants in the Boston Athletic Association and Boston Knights of Columbus meets. The Panthers have also been occasional performers in New York's Millrose meet.

Congress Provides For Study Abroad

The Veterans' Administration has announced that students studying abroad may be able to qualify for benefits under both the GI Bill and the Fulbright Act.

The Fulbright Act, administered by the Department of State, provides for grants in aid to American students for study abroad. The VA ruled that payment of education and training benefits under the GI Bill may be made to student-veterans regardless of any grants made them under the Fulbright Act.

Under the GI Bill, World War II veterans may study in a VA approved foreign educational institution under the same provisions that apply to study in a college or university in the United States.

Under the Fulbright Act, financial aid may be provided for United States citizens studying in schools of foreign countries in which credit is acquired.

Director Appointed For Italian School

The appointment of Dr. Salvatore G. Castiglione of the faculty of Yale University as director of the Middlebury College Summer Italian School was announced today by Dr. Stephen A. Freeman, director of the college's summer language schools.

Doctor Castiglione, who has frequently been a member of the Italian School staff, will fill the position left vacant by Dr. Camillo P. Merlino of Boston University, director for the past ten years, who resigned recently due to poor health.

The Italian School, following the same pattern as the other language schools, stresses exclusive use of the foreign language in and out of the classroom, the segregation of students from contact with English, and the concentration of the work of each student upon the foreign language. The school, which enjoyed a sound and steady growth, despite the war, under Doctor Merlino's direction will continue to offer high quality instruction in the language and culture of Italy.

NOTICE

T. B. x-rays are scheduled for Middlebury students December 1-5, at times which will be announced in the daily notices. The x-rays will be given in the basement of the Student Union Building, and are sponsored by the Vermont Tuberculosis Association and the Vermont Department of Public Health. A good record was maintained here last year; only ten women and forty men failed to take advantage of this service.

Men's Assembly

the football squad might be held. A committee of Gordon C. Perine '49, chairman, Michael Tanes '51, and Malcolm MacGregor '51 was appointed to investigate the matter.

Wendel H. Agne '50 scored the general state of confusion that exists concerning the college alma mater. Mr. Agne was appointed as a representative of the Assembly to work with those organizations which are attempting to have an officially approved alma mater selected.

Ernest C. Zimmerman '50 presented his committee's report of the investigation of the inadequacy of funds allotted to the debating team for operating expenses. His report stated that it appears nothing can be done this year to increase the budget of the team.

Other matters discussed were the library lighting and heating, the school ring, periodical subscriptions for the lounges in the Student Union Building, and the inadequate telephone facilities in Gifford Hall.

Speaker David E. Thompson '49 urged Assembly representatives to be more conscientious in reporting of Assembly business to their constituents, and appointed Bruce B. Guillan '51 as new chairman in a shakeup of the Assembly election committee.

The car owners association at the house got busy last week and enlarged the garage so as to permit entrance of a third car. Most of the credit for this goes to Al Craz, Don Stillman, and Ernie Hunter. Ernie, who doesn't own a car, must have been making sure of a ride up the hill now that winter is here. . . . In spite of efforts on the part of some of the brothers to hide his pin, Tom Mariner retrieved it in time to pin Barrie Kniffen of Wheelock College when she was here for the U.V.M. week-end. Ev Littlefield and Dick Wolff re-dropped their pins now that the new ones have come. . . . The annual Army-Navy game of the house will be played off Thanksgiving morning with Mert Stevens heading the Navy and Ernie Hunter commanding the Army. Last year the Army ended on top, but Captain Stevens looks forward to a victory this year.

Alpha Tau Omega

First of all this week, A. T. O. would like to extend hearty congratulations to the entire cast and staff of "State of the Union," and especially to its stars James Van Wart and Virginia Calhoun, and to their very able support Eugene Miller and Barbara Fairbanks. And to some rather cool Friday night critics, we would like to say that it's a lot easier to criticize an actor than to be one. . . .

Last Sunday A. T. O. had the privilege of being host at dinner to Professor and Mrs. Bowker; needless to say, their company was as enjoyable as ever.

No further pin-dropping at ATO has been reported—bachelordom might still be holding its own after all! These individualists! We are looking for a carnival to join. . . .

Many familiar faces were in evidence over the victorious UVM weekend. Among them we saw George Stuart, Bob Mooney, Mike Mann, and Al Wolfley, all of the class of '47. Also up for the festivities was Jack Bates, brother of our own Don and currently a salesman for Stanley Works.

House privileges have been extended to Frank Wurm. Besides being an athlete, we have discovered that Frank is a trencherman from way back. In that rough volleyball tussle with the senior women we suffered one casulty in the person of Tom Martin. The gals play a hard game don't they Tom? Understand the boys won but that it cost them a round of coffee anyway!

Our thanks are extended to the Sig Eps for a fine time and good brew.

In fact some of the boys thought the party had been transferred to the Ark.

DKE

Among the alums who showed up at the house UVM weekend were Mose Hubbard, Art Pepin, Johnny Urban, Bob Adsit, and Sid Patchett. It was good to see them again!

Jim Sheehan and Millie Moore are said to be looking for an apartment. I guess Jim wants some of that home cooking that the other married brothers are raving about.

All of the Dekes who were present at the Sig Ep shindig last Saturday have admitted that they had a good time. We understand that Billy Mac arrived just in time to be mistaken for a beer keg. We gave a loud snap for Mike Luke's entertainment, but wonder just how long it will be before his steady beat produces a hole in the living room floor.

Delta Upsilon

Due to the inability of Stu Petrie, Bob Parker or George Shumway to bag any of the excessive venison reported to be in nearby mountains, the DU house has been forced to accept pure Vermont turkey for Thanksgiving dinner this year. That's okay, fellows, we really wanted cranberry sauce, anyway.

Schuss-ers Newman, Butts, Pike, Spatz, and Hammerberg sallied forth to Mt. Lincoln last week to get in a little pre-season skiing. They reported the snow conditions as consisting of "one-half slush on an old gravel base." No fatalities were incurred.

Kappa Delta Rho

A capacity crowd filled the KDR House following the UVM game two weeks ago. Coffee was served to an almost endless line of chilled people — members, alumni, faculty and friends. The coffee must have hit the spot because the joint was really jumping a few minutes later. At about five-thirty an informal dinner was served to those who remained. We wish to thank Miss Martin and Professor Leighton for honoring us with their presence.

KDR extends formal thanks to members of Sig Ep for their invitation to a get-together at their house last Saturday. We all had an enjoyable evening.

Gee, I wish we had a dog so I would have something to write about, too.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Two weeks ago Fred McGarry was operated on for appendicitis and Phil Deane last Wednesday night was taken to the hospital for an emergency appendectomy. Fred is expected to return this week and Phil will be back for Thanksgiving. . . . Jack Mulcahy, on his scoring run in the UVM game received a knee injury by Hurley, a UVM halfback, which placed Jack in the hospital for a week. Hurley, however, came out second best with a broken jaw and several other facial bones smashed, requiring an immediate operation. . . . On Saturday night the honorable brothers of DKE and members of other houses who weren't invited to the A.M.B. dance were guests at a soiree given at the Sig Ep house. Four kegs were manfully yet sedately killed. Casualties? None, by gawd, none!

Theta Chi

Your correspondent takes this opportunity to extend the house congratulations to Phi Bete Cluff, the only member of the men's college to be thus honored at this time. Nice work, Milt—we knew you'd come through.

For the past ten days we've had a standing order for venison steak, but to this writing those happy hunters, Glazier and Ellison have experienced little success in their quest. So far they've overtaken a fox, two squirrels, and a woodpecker.

At last the "Phone Booth Romeos" can proceed with their date making in relative privacy. The new lock has finally been installed on the phone booth door. Now all that is needed is sound-proofing. What am I saying? Now all that is needed is dates!

Freeman Appointed Chairman Of Drive

The annual drive to raise funds for the Salvation Army opened in this area with the appointment of a Middlebury committee. Stephen S. Freeman, vice-president of Middlebury College, has been appointed general chairman and Peter J. Hincks, cashier of the National Bank of Middlebury, was named treasurer for the drive in this district.

Part of the money raised will be used by the Middlebury Salvation Army Service Unit Fund under the direction of an active local committee to conduct relief work. For the present all contributions may be forwarded directly to Mr. Hincks as no immediate campaign of personal solicitation is planned.

In an interview, Doctor Freeman said, "If all those who have expressed their admiration for the magnificent work of the Salvation Army during the war years just past will join those who have always appreciated the many and varied works of mercy and rehabilitation which the Salvation Army performs all the time, the effort here will certainly be a complete success."

Other members of the committee from Middlebury College are W. Storrs Lee, dean of men; Mary F. Williams, dean of women; Lewis J. Hathaway, professor emeritus of music; Rev. Roland E. Johnson, chaplain; and Robert D. Hope, assistant treasurer.
